Malls segment develops, conducts, operates and maintains the business of modern commercial shopping centers and all businesses related thereto such as the conduct, operation and maintenance of shopping center spaces for rent, amusement centers, or cinema theaters within the compound of the shopping centers.

20. Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The Company's principal financial instruments, other than derivatives, comprise of cash and cash equivalents, accrued interest and other receivables, equity instruments at FVOCI and debt instruments. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to finance the Company's operations. The Company has other financial assets and liabilities such as trade receivables and trade payables, which arise directly from its operations.

The Company also enters into derivative transactions, principally, cross currency swaps, principal only swaps, interest rate swaps, foreign exchange forward swaps and non-deliverable forwards. The purpose is to manage the interest rate and foreign currency risks arising from the Company's operations and its sources of finance.

The main risks arising from the Company's financial instruments are interest rate risk, foreign currency risk, liquidity risk, credit risk and equity price risk. The Company's BOD and management review and agree on the policies for managing each of these risks.

Interest Rate Risk

The Company's policy is to manage its interest cost using a mix of fixed and floating rate debts. To manage this mix in a cost-efficient manner, it enters into interest rate swaps, in which the Company agrees to exchange, at specified intervals, the difference between fixed and floating rate interest amounts calculated by reference to an agreed-upon notional principal amount. These swaps are designated to economically hedge underlying debt obligations. As at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, after considering the effect of interest rate swaps, approximately 65% and 54%, respectively, of its long-term debt instruments, are at a fixed rate of interest.

Foreign Currency Risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates.

The Company's policy is to manage its foreign currency risk mainly from its debt issuances which are denominated in U.S. dollars by entering into derivative instruments aimed at reducing and/or managing the adverse impact of changes in foreign exchange rates on financial performance and cash flow.

The Company's foreign currency-denominated monetary net assets amounted to US$4 million (₱224 million) as at September 30, 2026 and US$5 million (₱299 million) as at December 31, 2025.

In translating the foreign currency-denominated monetary assets to peso amounts, the exchange rates used were ₱62.64 to US$1.00 and ₱58.79 to US$1.00, the Philippine peso to US dollar exchange rates as at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk arises from the possibility that the Company may encounter difficulties in raising funds to meet commitments from financial instruments or that a market for derivatives may not exist in some circumstance.

The Company seeks to manage its liquidity profile to be able to finance capital expenditures and service maturing debts. To cover its financing requirements, the Company intends to use internally generated funds and proceeds from debt and equity issues.

As part of its liquidity risk management program, the Company regularly evaluates its projected and actual cash flow information and continuously assesses conditions in the financial markets for opportunities to pursue fund-raising initiatives. These initiatives may include bank loans, debt capital and equity market issues. The Company also has readily available credit facility with banks and affiliates to meet its current and long-term financial liabilities.

Fair Value Hierarchy

The Company uses the fair value hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments.

During the nine-month period ended September 30, 2026 and the year ended December 31, 2025, there were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 fair value measurements and no transfers into and out of Level 3 fair value measurements.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instrument for which it is practicable to estimate such value:

Derivative Instruments. The fair values are based on quotes obtained from counterparties.

Escrow and Time Deposits. The fair values are based on the discounted value of future cash flows using the prevailing market rates.

Financial assets at FVOCI. The fair value of investments that are actively traded in organized financial markets is determined by reference to quoted market bid prices at the close of business.

Nonfinancial Assets. For fair values based on income approach, the significant assumptions used in the most recent valuation as at December 31, 2024 are discount rates of 9% to 10% and average growth rate of 5.00%, respectively. Fair values based on market approach were assessed using sales comparison of similar asset with adjustments ranging (±)5% to (±)30%. As at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, management believes that the carrying values of additions to investment properties subsequent to the most recent valuation date would approximate their fair values.

Long-term Debt. Fair value is based on the following:

Debt Type	Fair Value Assumptions
Fixed Rate Loans	Estimated fair value is based on the discounted value of future cash flows using the applicable rates for similar types of loans. Discount rates used is based on the prevailing market rate as at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.
Variable Rate Loans	For variable rate loans that re-price every three months, the carrying value approximates the fair value because of recent and regular repricing based on current market rates. For variable rate loans that re-price every six months, the fair value is determined by discounting the principal amount plus the next interest payment amount using the prevailing market rate as at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 up to the next repricing date. Discount rates used is based on the prevailing market rate.

Tenants' Deposits and Other Noncurrent Liabilities. The estimated fair value is based on the discounted value of future cash flows using the applicable rates. The discount rates used range from 1.22% to 7.70% and 1.34% to 6.85% as at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

The Company assessed that the carrying values of cash and cash equivalents, receivables, bank loans and accounts payable and other current liabilities approximate their fair values due to the short-term nature and maturities of these financial instruments.

There were no financial instruments subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement that were not offset in the interim consolidated balance sheets.

Derivative Instruments Accounted for as Cash Flow Hedges

As at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company has outstanding arrangements to hedge both foreign currency and interest rate exposures on its foreign currency denominated debts.

As the terms of the swaps have been negotiated to match the terms of the hedged loans, the hedges were assessed to be effective.

The net movements in fair value of all derivative instruments are as follows:
